

TAFFY!

NO MORE NEGOTIATION.

A CHICAGO PACKER HAS THE STRIKE SETTLED.

So Far as His Colleagues Have Anything to Do About It—Powderly's Agent, Mr. Carlton, However, Says Negotiations Are in Progress—Boy-cotting a Backslider—A Mob Dispersed.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—There was no change in the situation at the stock yards. The place presents the appearance of a military post, with blue-coated sentries at all the entrances, and the infantry, cavalry and Gatling gun squad ready for business at a moment's notice.

One of Armour's butchers, George Schilt by name, refused to strike when the others went out, and after exhausting every resource in the way of threats, etc., the strikers proceeded to make his home warm for him. A boycott was first declared, and that having no effect a mob snatched all the windows in his place, and in the morning Schilt then determined to move, but when he had his household goods on the trucks a mob of Poles and Bohemians surrounded them and threatened to destroy the whole outfit. A call on the police was made and a guard was sent and the moving completed, and a strong force of deputies stationed at the house. Schilt has been for Armour for several years, and is in comfortable circumstances.

G. P. Baldwin, secretary of the Packers' association, stated Friday night to a United Press reporter that there had been no settlement or understanding arrived at or attempted between the packers and Mr. Powderly, or any other representative of the strikers, and that there never would be. "The packers," he said, "saw they had gone too far in the resolution of Nov. 8, refusing to employ Knights of Labor, and on the 10th they called off their dogs. They did not seek to antagonize the Knights of Labor or any other organization. It was useless now to go into the merits of the strike. The majority of the old men in the yard, in the yards, consisting of old men who had worked to work and new hands. Strikers in sufficient numbers were arriving from the east. All these men would be retained. The strikers would be taken back as individuals, but not in any other way. No arrangements for their return to work would be made with Powderly or his delegates."

Mr. Baldwin said he believed the wrath of the turbulent strikers was all that now deterred thousands of the old men from returning to work, but as soon as they recognized the true situation and realized that the strike protection would be continued until the last vestige of opposition and danger were removed, they would all come back to work. The strike, he declared, was already settled, and there would never be another settlement, and the quicker the men realized it the better for them. Mr. Baldwin said all the packing houses would be running in full force within a week.

Delegate Carlton of the executive committee of the Knights of Labor was seen Friday evening by a United Press reporter, and in response to an inquiry about the strike said: "Everything is so indefinite that I have nothing to tell. Of course we are negotiating, but the amount to any strike or not I can not say. I have an engagement to meet some of the packers to-morrow for a conference."

When asked if the strikers would be credited with the results of the pending negotiations would decide that. He thought the demands of the strikers were just, as it had been demonstrated that they did more in eight hours than in ten.

The military proceedings were continued Friday by the court-martial of private Ernest Graethead, who left camp without permission early in the week and was arrested the next day and put in the guard house, whereupon he took French leave.

A company of the militia was called out Friday to disperse a mob which was threatening two employees of the packing houses. As soon as the mob saw the soldiers they dispersed rapidly.

The strikers are working up a boycott of Armour's meats and District assembly No. 57 has already ordered one. The packers, with the exception of Armour, are still hiring new men as fast as they can get them and in most instances perfecting arrangements to begin work as soon as possible. The non-striking men are making early settlement of the strike. A visit to all the houses revealed the fact that the force of new workmen had been largely augmented since Wednesday.

Michael Brown, main curer, has sent a personal notice to each of their old employees stating that his place would be kept open for him until 7 o'clock Saturday morning, and if he failed to appear at work at that hour, the firm would employ a place to take his place, thus practically barring him from future employment.

Armour Has All the Help He Wants. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—The 200 skilled hog butchers who have been sent from here to take the place of strikers at Armour's Chicago packing house, are making about one year's steady work at from $3 to $4 per day, with protection from violence. Armour telegraphed Friday that he had now procured all the men he needed.

Collecting Election Statistics. LONDON, Nov. 13.—The police have been instructed to report upon the number of persons convicted from the buildings in each district in Ireland, to state whether the National league influences those who are able but refuse to pay the rates demanded by the landlords.

CLEVER SWINDLERS.

An Old Game Being Worked in Wisconsin and Rock Counties.

In the northern part of this (Winnebago) county, says the Rockford Gazette, and in the southern part of Rock county, a set of clever swindlers are working the country people. Their headquarters are at Beloit, and their scheme is the Towley estate of $8,000,000, said to be held by the Bank of England. A man named Jacques proposes to be the attorney employed to get the estate. He claims that one court in England has confirmed the rights of the heirs in the estate, and it only remains to get a favorable decision in one more court, and the eight millions will belong to the heirs. There is no doubt, they state, that the case can be carried to this court, that a favorable decision will be reached.

The money is a sure thing, but the heirs have no money to prosecute their claims, so they are obliged to let in other people to share in their great fortune. These fellows are getting sums of money on this showing, and they are giving their dupes receipts reading in substance as follows: Received from—the sum of $5 for which the heirs of the Towley estate will return $200 when their claims to their estate is confirmed by the court.

It has been authoritatively stated by the Bank of England that it has no such claims of money belonging to estates without heirs in its possession. The whole affair is a swindle from beginning to end, and the people who have put money into the scheme, have lost their money and bought experience.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is particularly recommended for children. It cures coughs, colds, croup, sore throat, and whooping cough. It is pleasant to taste, and acts like a charm. 25 cents.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

Singing the Time and Places Where Divine Services Will Be Held on Sunday.

"O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come."

How willing God is to meet all who want to meet Him. How willing he is to commune with all who desire to commune with Him. How readily he answers prayer: "Before they call I will answer, and while they are yet speaking, I will hear." How certainly he hears prayer: "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you." How largely he answers prayer: He gives grace and glory, and withholds no good thing pertaining to life and godliness.

"Unto thee shall all flesh come." Not a few, but many; not many but all. "All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee." "My house shall be called the house of prayer for all people."

Come then to him among all those that are coming. Come at once for there is a time when God, the Infinite Father, will not hear prayer. "Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer; they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me."

The Order of the Day Is Contest.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 13.—An Indianapolis special to The Post says: The order of the day in the political campaign is to contest the seat in the legislature. William Lattimore, the Republican-Greenback candidate for the lower house from Wells county, will contest Levi Meek's seat. The latter, it is alleged, deserted from the army and fled to Canada and swore allegiance to the crown during the civil war and therefore is ineligible. The Republicans so far have contested four seats and Democrats one with more in prospect.

Notices have been served on seven Republican members and four Democratic members of the lower house by Democrats. In the Lake and Porter districts bribery is alleged; Rash and Hancock, corruption and illegal voting; Tippecanoe, gross errors. Similar charges run through the remainder.
